

Renaissance Zone

A new 3,000-acre industrial park being developed directly south of Louisville International Airport is designated as a Renaissance Zone, a pilot program tax increment financing district. New taxes generated by businesses in this park will be reinvested in key, targeted infrastructure-type improvements to promote optimum redevelopment

In addition to its close proximity to Louisville International Airport and UPS Worldport, the park is bounded by CSX rail lines to the west, I-265 to the south and I-65 to the east.

10/05